COMMENTS/OPINIONS OF THE INSTITUTION/COMPANY
UWAGI/OPINIE INSTYTUCJI/FIRMY

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter to provide a positive review and a highly favorable evaluation of the internship period covered in the practice journal for our intern at Zenitel.

Throughout the internship, from the initial orientation to the final weeks of project implementation and testing, the intern demonstrated a profound commitment to learning and applying new skills, particularly in Microsoft Power Apps and Node.JS, as well as API integration. The diligence and technical acumen shown were of a high standard, notably in developing and testing the mobile application which was crucial to our operations.

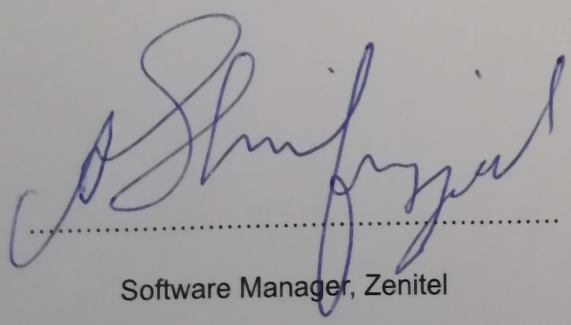
The intern was actively involved with the development team, not only integrating well with peers through daily interactions like shared lunches but also contributing significantly in team coding sessions. This engagement was instrumental in fostering a cooperative team environment and enhancing the intern's understanding of our project dynamics.

Technical challenges were addressed with a thoughtful approach, particularly during API integration and server connection issues. The intern showed exceptional problem-solving skills, effectively using advanced programming techniques and proposing practical solutions during critical phases of the project.

Given the intern's performance and the skills demonstrated during the internship, I am pleased to assign an outstanding grade. The intern's ability to handle complex tasks, adapt to new technologies, and work collaboratively with the team suggests a promising potential in any future technological role.

I confidently recommend acknowledging these achievements with a top evaluation in the practice journal, reflecting the intern's valuable contributions to our company and their potential for future success in the IT industry.

Sincerely,



.....

Software Manager, Zenitel

Ahmad Sharifinejad, PhD.